

Episode 20: A Quick Tour of the Business Income Deduction

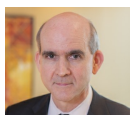

Michael G. Riley, Michael P. Witzke | Tuesday, October 30, 2018

On Episode 20 of MH Business Exchange, host Mike Witzke is joined by McDonald Hopkins member Michael Riley for a quick tour into all you need to know about the business income deduction. They discuss everything from understanding who qualifies for the 20 percent tax break to the reason behind Congress' decision to give us the qualified business deduction, whether or not all sole proprietors and owners of pass-through businesses get the deduction, and more.

If you want to learn more after listening to Episode 20 of MH Business Exchange, read our series on "The Business Income Deduction" by Michael Riley and David Ebersole:

- The business income deduction: Aggregate related businesses to increase your qualified business deduction
- The business income deduction: What do the proposed regulations on the business income deduction say about the crack and pack strategy?
- The business income deduction: Time to rethink your choice of entity?
- The business income deduction: Are you in the consulting or the sales business?
- The business income deduction: Do you qualify for the 20 percent tax break on your business income?

Michael G. Riley

Team member bio

a quick tour of the business income deduction

Michael P. Witzke

Team member bio